Child Victim & Witnesses Programs and Case Management Model

March 1, 2011

Presentation Outline:

- Overview of the Child Victim/Witness Program and the Counselling for Children Exposed to Intimate Partner Violence
- Case Management Model
- 2010 Child Case Statistics

Child Victim/ Witness Program Background

- Introduced as a pilot project in 1993
- Integrated as a core program in 1996
- Offered province-wide through Provincial Victim Services Program
- Provides general information and support to child victims of crime and their supportive adults
- Provides non-evidentiary court preparation for child victims or child witnesses under age 19 who testify in criminal court proceedings

Objectives of the Program:

- Increase the child's knowledge about court proceedings and roles of the key players
- Assist the child's understanding of how the court process unfolds
- Address the child's fears and reduce the anxiety associated with giving evidence
- Provide specific assistance in building communication skills focusing on the kinds of questions associated with cross-examination
- Emotional support to the child
- Victim/witness and their family

Child Victim/Witness Program Delivery

The session is delivered approximately six (6) weeks prior to the actual date of testimony.

•Session 1 uses tools such as: My Court Preparation Journal; What's My Job In Court; My Court Case; So You Have to Go To Court; and You're Not Alone.

•Session 2:

- Review of information from the first session
- Non-evidentiary role play of difficult questions
- Courtroom tour either alone or in consultation with the Crown Attorney
- Arrange for child to meet with Crown Attorney (may attend at Crown's request, but no discussion of evidence)

•Debriefing

- Involves a discussion of the court experience
- Debriefing to be completed within 48 hours of the child's testimony
- May be conducted on the telephone or face-to-face involving the child and their supportive adult

•Other Services:

- Booster Session if the child is required to testify again at a later date
- Victim Impact Statement Assistance after a finding of guilt

Case Management System

- JEIN based case management system was implemented in March 2009
- Enhancements to the system:

Victim Services, Counselling for Children Who Witness Intimate Partner Violence

- The program was introduced in January 2008.
- The Counselling for Children Who Witness Intimate Partner Violence Program offers professional counselling services to children.
- Children are affected by violence in their family. It can hurt as much as if the violence was done to them.
- The intimate partner violence must be reported to police, after a report is made an application is submitted to the program within one year of the crime.
- Once an application is approved a counselor is selected. Counselling is provided by private counselling practitioners within the community who are approved counsellors with our program.
- Counsellors must apply to become approved counsellors and meet certain criteria. The counselors bill our program directly for service provided.

Here are some things that can happen to children when there is violence at home

Children are affected by violence in their family. It can hurt as much as if the violence was done to them. It affects them now, and it affects them later. It changes how they behave and how they deal with their feelings. It changes how they learn and grow up. It changes how they deal with people and situations.

Here are some things that can happen to children when there is violence at home

babies and toddlers

- cry a lot
- can't sleep
- put on weight

pre-schoolers

- cling to you
- get pushy, start fights
- worry, feel afraid

early school-aged

- feel like the violence is their fault
- try to stop the abuse

aged 6 to 10

- have trouble at school
- have trouble making friends

teens

- skip school, drop out, run away
- have violent dates
- pretend there is no family violence to help them cope

These children can grow up accepting violence as part of life.
